Durango, CO – November 11, 2016

Durango High School DECA is pleased to announce the receipt of a generous grant from For the Future Foundation, the 501 c-3 non-profit of Swan Global Investments in Durango, CO. This grant will play a role in providing an assistant DECA advisor for the 16-17 school year, as well as support the hidden cost associated with substitute teachers while DECA travels. It will also allow DECA to install a display case to showcase student achievements such as awards and trophies earned in competition.

Jim Engelken, a director of For the Future Foundation has been an active supporter of Durango High School DECA for many years, serving as a DECA judge helping students prepare for conferences. Engelken commented, "I am pleased to present this support to DHS DECA to take the chapter to the next level of achievement, where students of all backgrounds can get involved and catch a vision for their own future in Marketing, Management, Hospitality, Finance and Entrepreneurship".

DHS DECA advisor Dave Dillman responded to the generosity of this grant "This generous donation will provide a significant investment in our DECA members and enhance their preparation for the upcoming leadership conferences in Craig, CO, Colorado Springs and Anaheim. I look forward to bringing top notch assistant advisor on board to assist these positive and forward thinking students".

Durango High School DECA is a club rapidly growing with 35 local members, 8500 Colorado members, and 215,000 members internationally. DECA allows students to experience the business world and develop leadership, professional and competitive skills. DECA strives to create real life business situations to build entrepreneurs in the future.
